Video shows how your feedback has been used to improve dementia services in Wiltshire

In a project spanning four years, we have listened to the views of more than 1,600 people who are affected by dementia and used this feedback to work with other organisations to make improvements to services across the county.

Take a look at what you told us and what changes have been made in our video.

You can also find out more about this work in our Working Together to Improve Dementia
